6. Problems and Solutions

Endorsements and Public Awareness

Challenges Encountered:

- Limited public awareness and understanding of blockchain technology and its societal benefits.
- Lack of endorsements or proactive engagement from key institutions and stakeholders due to unfamiliarity with Web 3.0 innovations.
- Resistance to change from traditional governance structures unfamiliar with decentralized systems.

Approach and Actions Taken:

- Initiated awareness campaigns through strategic communication and stakeholder engagement.
- Presented business plans and use-case demonstrations to government agencies and private sector leaders.
- Working closely with TIC and regulatory bodies to align innovation with national development goals.
- Planning educational workshops, webinars, and pilot showcases to build credibility and drive endorsements.

7. Future Plans

- Completion of MVP and beta launch of TanzanLedger and TopNotch CargoLink core modules.
- Full registration and operationalization of TopNotch Infotech.
- Recruitment of 5 more local software engineers and 2 AI specialists.
- Marketing and stakeholder onboarding campaigns.
- Begin integration with select government departments.
- Financial Commitment: Estimated $150,000 (platform scaling, salaries, compliance, equipment).

8. Recommendations and any other comments

We appreciate TIC's support in facilitating this transformative venture. We recommend expedited processing of amendments for digital innovation projects in line with Tanzania's

Vision 2025. Our goal is to position Tanzania as a regional leader in Web 3.0 governance and digital public infrastructure.

We also humbly request formal endorsement from TIC for this project, as such recognition would not only accelerate stakeholder trust and institutional collaboration but also help raise national awareness about the critical role of blockchain and Web 3.0 technologies in reshaping governance and service delivery.
