DIF,

It is highly convincing for investor shifting his mind from a traditional investment of bricks laying project to manufacturing of TILES. Tiles manufacturing falls under manufacturing, which is typically encouraged due to value addition, Import substitution and industrialization alignment (FYDP III objectives).

In tis aspect a recommend project approval by the authority as requested by the prospective investor.

The investor has submitted a formal request letter and a business plan showing a shift from a previous proposed activity (Brick laying) to a new activity (Tiles manufacturing). Through their business plan, they have listed two main products that they will manufacture;

1. Roofing Tiles- Including Concrete roofing tiles, slate roofing tiles, clay roofing tiles, composite roof tiles, metal roof tiles, solar roof tiles and cedar shake roof tiles.
2. Ground Tiles- Includes porcelain tiles, glass tiles, vitrified tiles, mosaic tiles, vinyl tiles, wooden tiles, cement tiles and terracotta tiles.

Tiles manufacturing falls under manufacturing, which is typically encouraged due to value addition, Import substitution and industrialization alignment (FYDP III objectives).

I submit for further considerations and decisions.
